

The medical equipment that RCDT donated to Sunrise Clinic will help the clinic to serve the community more effectively.

Sunrise Park Clinic gets a boost

"Rustenburg Community Development Trust's (RCDT) intervention gives me confidence that we are not alone; we will beat Covid-19 together," says North West Department of Health Rustenburg sub-district manager Rudzani Ramugondo.

On 19 August, Ramugondo and senior staff at Sunrise Park Clinic received stethoscopes, thermometers, a vaccine fridge, glucometers, sterilisers, trolleys, foam mattresses and more from RCDT, which is committed to equipping host community health facilities to help flatten the Covid-19 curve.

Keep on washing your hands, sanitising and wearing your masks!"

"A huge thank you to RCDT – you are saving so many lives!" says Ramugondo. "We are all in this together. The support we are receiving from you bears testimony to that."

RCDT chairperson Nthabiseng Matsobane added: "Let's continue to remind everyone to wear masks, sanitise and get vaccinated at their nearest medical facility."

RCDT operations manager Katleho Thinane shares the trust's commitment to improving living standards in our host communities.

Donation boosts Boitekong Clinic

Two Covid-19 vaccine storage fridges, a glucometer, an ultraviolet steriliser, a trolley, a cot bed, foam mattresses and other equipment were donated to Boitekong Clinic by Rustenburg Community Development Trust on 19 August.

"Interventions like these have helped us to deal with the virus," says North West Department of Health Rustenburg sub-district senior administration officer Tsediso Ntengo.

On behalf of the clinic, operational manager Tsholofelo Theledi thanked RCDT and said: "We will make sure the equipment serves our community, whose care is our passion".

RCDT chairperson Nthabiseng Matsobane took the opportunity to urge everyone to keep encouraging communities to safeguard their health by following all of the Covid-19 prevention protocols.
